Mrs Patricia N. Edwards

Dear Mrs Edwards:

Thank you for your letter, and for your interest in my efforts related to southeast Mississippi genealogical research. The information I have has been obtained primarily from libraries, and family records, but from few bible records. Mr. Strickland helped me significantly through his publications (which are in the Fort Worth, Texas Public Library), and with a personal letter which carefully explained the formation of the counties in southeast Mississippi which causes me so much grief.

To answer your letter:

1. Ancestor charts and family group sheets are enclosed for the names I am researching in southeast Mississippi and Washington County, Alabama. In addition, I have some data from census records tracing Drury Runnels' location.

2. The Williford line is tight back to William E. Williford in Clarke Co., Miss., and I think it is also tight to William E.'s father John Williford through a family land sale administered by John's wife and William E. when John died in Clarke Co., Miss. Earlier than this a John Williford appears to have come from N.C. to Georgia, and then to Miss. Terr. looking for land, and since the other John died in N.C., I think our John is the son of Benjamin, and tied to the whole line as published by Eurie Pearl Neal in "The Wilford-Williford Treks Into America". William E. Williford was born in 1797 (14 Jan) in N.C. I don't think William Welford, b. 1797, England is the same man because the Williford spelling seems to be consistent with a few exceptions (Willaford) due to census-taker spellings. On pension papers, William E. says he married Sinia Griffin in 1819, and I never heard of Abigail Etta Dickerson. Thank you for Dr. Welford's address.

I will be glad to furnish any information I have on these Mississippi ancestors to you or others.

Sincerely,

D.M. Singleton
Daniel M. Singleton
